Outler D. Gose, veteran mail-carrier out of Decatur: "Want to congratulate the Messenger; it is a splendid weekly, and I know of its popularity among the people of Wise County."

Among Messenger's visitors Friday and Saturday, during the two-day celebration in Decatur, were Mark Marshall, Marvin Smith, Glen Embury, Ed. Haisell, Lee Morris, Col. Ernest Thompson, Buck Bowen, Bob Edwards, Tom McClure, A. H. Johnston, C. V. Terrell.

Bob Edwards, over from Denton, to look over our big celebration Friday, dropped in to see Messenger editor, bringing information that he has been "off" on his golf "since Messenger scribbled" gave a demonstration on the Denton course of real putting.

Prof. Carl Brumbelow states that work on the Centennial choir is well under way, and that other towns and communities are co-operating and he hopes to have a grand chorus which should be a credit to the county when Wise County Day at the Dallas Centennial Exposition comes around—July 2nd.

Marvin Smith, reformed newspaper man, now postmaster of Farmersville, was back on the old home grounds for the big two-day fete. "My neighbors in Farmersville, T. M. Darwin and Mrs. Fred Bashow, were coming to Decatur to visit with Dr. Darwin and take in the centennial show; so I hummed a ride with them, and here I am."

Once is plenty! "A few days ago a New York woman was touring Texas and while in Groom she became interested in cowboys. After looking Morris Kuorp over, who was dressed in his big hat, boots and a calf-skin jacket, she asked timidly, 'How often do you kill a man in this town?' 'Just once,' replied Morris."—Groom News.

The devilish republicans are making preparations to take over the federal jobs. According to their deductions, etc., the contest is won, and the fun is over. According to the Messenger's readings, Roosevelt will be nominated by the princely patriots, and he will be re-elected by a vote, which will cause the deplaved ones to ask the old-old question, "Who hit Billy Patterson?"

Believe Wise county can claim the honor of producing as many, if not more, men and women who have made their marks high in the country's affairs of any section in the state," remarked a visitor at the Messenger office during the "Home-Coming" last Friday and Saturday. And the gentleman started to name the men and women born in the county, who today are among the state's most prominent citizens.

It develops that the powers that be over in our neighbor town, Bridgeport, are not familiar with their town's streets, and as a result of this unfamiliarity, some trouble has been brought about by a recent election. Now the city dads (latin for aldermen) are called upon to have another election to set things aright, and acquaint the people where a certain street is located in their good town. The story as told Messenger in phone message, from Bridgeport this morning: An election to stop up, or close,

FUND CHAIRMAN FILES LAW SUIT

Defendants Say State Has First Claim In Taxes

Suit for $17,407.12, said to be due the Will Rogers Memorial Fund from proceeds of a one-day benefit racing meet at Arlington Downs last Nov. 21, was filed in Sixty-seventh district court Monday afternoon by Amon Carter, state chairman of the fund, against Guy and E. Paul Waggoner, co-owners of the Downs; Trav Daniel, agent and general manager, and the Texas Jockey Club.

Interest at the rate of 6 per cent annually against the four defendants from Dec. 1, last, was sought.

The plaintiff set out that the fatal airplane crash on an Alaska tundra in August of 1935, in which both Rogers and Wiley Post, the aviator, lost their lives, "was the occasion for a demonstration of genuine grief on the part of the American people, all of whom held him (Rogers) in their esteem and affection and to whom his death came with a sense of personal bereavement."

"Your petitioner would further show that following the death of Will Rogers a sentiment sprang up in the breast of the people of America that a life as noble as that of Will Rogers, and one productive of such goodwill to his fellowmen, should not go unremembered, but that his memory should be enshrined in some achievement that would furnish a parallel to the nobility of his own life."

Accordingly, the petition continued, "it was suggested that a great fund be collected out of the free and voluntary contributions of the American people to perpetuate his memory and achievements, and that this fund when assembled and collected should be known as the Will Rogers Memorial Fund, the proceeds of which should be devoted to the nurture, care, maintenance and cure of crippled and underprivileged children."

The plaintiff said he was named Texas chairman of the fund by the governor and that he proposed to the defendants that Arlington Downs should be devoted on a particular day to a race meet known as Will Rogers Day, and that all gate receipts, admission fees and revenues from concessions should be applied to the special fund with the exception of the purses paid owners of winning horses.

This proposal, the petition set out, was accepted by the Texas Jockey Club and the race date was set for Thursday, Nov. 21.

Carter was granted a license by the Texas racing commission, dated Nov. 20, in which he was authorized to hold the racing meet and use in connection therewith the certificate system of contribution and distribution of money, he said, and the meet was held at Arlington Downs by virtue of the license.

Following is the text of the Waggoners' reply to the Carter suit:

"The only thing in controversy in this suit is $2800 paid the state of Texas as tax due as a result of the Will Rogers Memorial Day at Arlington Downs, plaintiff claiming it should be paid to him as chairman of said Memorial fund, and defendants claiming it belongs to the state of Texas under the law.

"At the conclusion of the fall racing meet, we were requested by certain citizens interested in the Rogers Memorial Fund to let them have the use of the track and facilities for holding a Rogers Memorial racing meet for one day, requesting that all of the gross proceeds from such meet would be paid into the Will Rogers Memorial Fund on behalf of the citizens of Dallas and Fort Worth. With the explanation to the representatives of the Will Rogers Memorial Fund that we had no control over nor ownership in the tax money, due the state of Texas, nor the purse money belonging to the owners of the horses to be entered in such meet, we readily agreed to furnish the Downs and every facility in connection therewith for this worthy cause without compensation, and agreed that all of the receipts derived from the day's meet, save and except the two items above mentioned, would be delivered to the treasurer of the Will Rogers Memorial Fund.

Miss Claudie Mae Workman of Fort Worth, and Miss Ruth Workman of Balisora, spent Saturday and Sunday here with their father, Wills Workman.

TWO-DAY SHOW GREAT SUCCESS

Thousands Visitors Celebrate County's Birthday In Decatur

With delegates present from every town and community in the county, and many visitors and former citizens from other parts of the state on hand, Wise county held its eightieth birthday party—the Wise County Centennial Celebration, last Friday and Saturday. They came from far and near, and estimates were that there were between ten and twelve thousand people here at one time.

The historical parade around the public square Friday morning, led by the North Texas State Teachers College band, did credit to those taking part in it. Floats depicting early stages of Texas and Wise county history were entered by business and civic groups of Decatur and nearby towns. One depicting the surrender of Santa Anna to Gen. Sam Houston was prepared by the Lions Club and Women's Study Club of Bridgeport. A covered wagon drawn by donkeys was another entry, arranged by the Junior Women's Club of Decatur.

Speaking to a crowd that packed the north campus of the Decatur high school, Governor James V. Allred reviewed the history of Texas and paid tribute to leaders who had a part in the development of the state.

"The history of our state is a rich heritage for our children and the lives of Texas heroes are worthy today of emulation," he said. "Likewise the history of Wise county is inspiring to us as we stop today to pay homage to those who wrought so bravely and well in days gone by. Some of our finest leaders in many lines of endeavor are natives of this section and spent most of their youth on the farms and in the fine schools of Wise county."

Other speakers included Col. Ernest O. Thompson, Austin, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, a native of Wise county, and C. V. Terrell, a member of the commission, who was born in Wise county and still calls Decatur his home. State Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur presided and Governor Allred was introduced by Representative Herman Jones.

"While we have flowing gold and other resources usually associated with wealth and prosperity," Col. Thompson said, "the real background of true prosperity rests on the farm and ranch and in the hands of the farmers and ranchmen among whom still predominates that type of citizenship which enabled the frontiersmen in the old days to combat the rigors and hardships which confronted them and to build this great state."

Gov. Allred Enjoyed Wise County Ham

Governor Allred, when he was here last week as a guest of the Centennial Celebration, evinced the symptoms of a man enjoying himself hugely as the honored guest of the women and girls of the county home demonstration and county farm agent groups who served a picnic dinner at Harmon Field Friday at noon.

Other distinguished Texans also partook of the hospitality of the club women and girls, among them Railroad Commissioners C. V. Terrell and E. O. Thompson. On the platform were leaders of the local community and legislative representatives, Herman Jones and Senator Grady Woodruff. Herman Jones introduced Gov. Allred, who spoke briefly. Mrs. Abe Birdwell of Boyd, chairman of the County Home Demonstration Club Council, presided. Women and girl club members from many parts of the county were present.

Gov. Allred complimented the country ham and other home cooking served him. He enjoyed the open air shine and said so. He also said he was an enthusiastic supporter of the organizations that are trying to build better and happier homes in this state.

casions and introduced at the speaking was Mrs. A. S. Badger of Decatur and Fort Worth, who was born near Decatur November 8, 1856, the same year Wise county was organized. She is the daughter of the late Sam Woody, believed to have been the first white man to permanently settle in the county.

Friday's program was concluded at 8 p. m. with the coronation of Miss Dorothy Finlayson of Rhame, as queen of the Wise County Centennial Celebration, and the staging of an historical pageant depicting the settlement and development of the county. This was one of the most colorful and entertaining programs ever presented in the county, and was attended by the largest crowd ever to be assembled in Penn O. Dickson field.

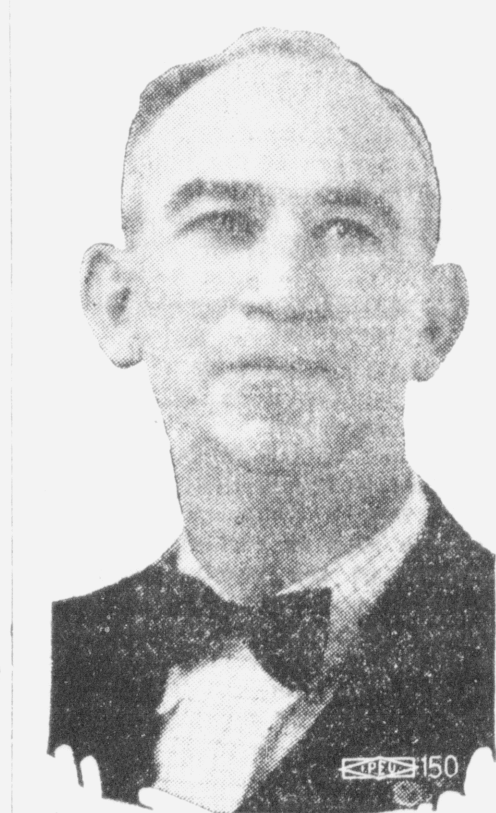

Beginning the program Saturday morning were the mounted potato races at Harmon Field park, in which some thirty riders entered. The kiddies parade at 11 o'clock again packed the public square. About two hundred children took part.

In the afternoon about eight hundred visitors were shown thru the old mansion east of the city, built by Dan Waggoner in 1833. Others visited the educational, historical and commercial exhibits at the high school. Decatur Baptist College entertained about two hundred guests at its field day program. Late in the afternoon a Fort Worth parachute jumper staged a delayed leap from a plane piloted by H. D. Hatch of Dallas.

A radio entertainers' and stunt night program and old fiddlers' contest were held at the high school Saturday evening, and the street dance following closed the program.

ADAIR OUT FOR TREASURER JOB

Travis County Man Is In Race—A Life Long Democrat

Garland Adair

Austin, Texas, April 23.—Garland Adair, 47, of Austin, Travis county, veteran Texas newspaper man and originator of the Texas Centennial commemorative coins now being distributed in Texas banks for the Texas memorial museum, today announced his candidacy for the office of treasurer of the state of Texas, subject to the action of the July democratic primary.

In a brief statement to the press, he says:

"Yielding to the request of friends who have broached this subject to me, and after consulting citizens in practically every county in Texas, I have decided to make the race for the honorable office of state treasurer, subject to the action of the July democratic primary. Deeply appreciative of generous support already pledged, early in May I expect to carry my campaign to the voters of the state. I wish I might contain every citizen of Texas, but that is impossible. It will be necessary for me to rely upon my friends and upon all who are friendly to my candidacy to place the matter properly before Texas democrats. I shall make another statement at the beginning of my activities in May."

A campaign in his behalf was started in several Texas newspapers in the summer of 1935, the movement urging him to make the race originated among a group of his friends in 1934. Literature giving notice of his prospective candidacy appeared during March, in which it was stated that: "Friends thruout

WOOL-WASHING, BEDROOM IDEAS STUDIED AT BRIAR

A thick suds (120 deg. F.) and salt soda will remove oil and dirt from wool. Lift wool gently; never rub on a beard or with bar soap. This was learned by the Briar H. D. Club at a special meeting at Mrs. James Jefferson's April 8. After lunch the club worked on Miss Stone's wool comfort.

"Fresh air and sunshine make a bedroom more liveable," said Miss Stone at the meeting of the Briar Home Demonstration Club, at Mrs. Robert Pope's April 15. With $40 to spend, what would you buy to furnish a bedroom? This question was discussed by the women present, the following points being mentioned. A bed that is light in weight, yet strong; a dresser with one-piece top and drawers that are easily pulley; a good table for reading or study, and at least two comfortable chairs. A cheap piece of furniture will have a glossy appearance, but an expensive piece will have a velvety smooth finish. Miss Gladys Keethly joined the club at this meeting. The club discussed the trip to Decatur for the Centennial Celebration. There were 11 members and 2 visitors present. The club will meet with Mrs. James Jefferson May 6th, to discuss scoring vegetables.

NEWARK CLUB STUDIES BEDROOM FURNISHING

"When furnishing a bedroom think first of physical comfort." This advice was given by Miss Ora Stone, county home demonstration agent, when the Newark Home Demonstration Club met April 20, at the home of Mrs. R. A. Hudson.

Four essentials in a bedroom are: (a) cleanliness, (b) fresh air, (c) sunlight and (d) restfulness. Restfulness is the measuring rod. In selecting the furniture look for good quality in workmanship. Arrange all large pieces of furniture parallel with the walls.

Mrs. R. L. Wilbanks was received as a new member and Mrs. D. C. Fite was a visitor. Nine regular members were present.

BRINE PICKLING STUDIED BY BRIDGEPORT 4-H CLUB

"A good brine is essential to having nice firm pickles," said Miss Thelma Welborn, assistant home demonstration agent, at the regular meeting of the Bridgeport high school 4-H Club girls, April 16.

Using stone jars and a correct amount of salt, one can easily make pickles that are delicious. It is also necessary to keep brine proportioned well.

A new reporter was elected, and plans made to attend the Wise County Centennial Celebration.

Bridgeport to Stage Fishing Celebration

The city of Bridgeport is to be host to thousands of sportsmen from all parts of Texas May 1, 2 and 3, at which time that city is to hold its fish tournament marking the opening of the fishing season at beautiful Lake Bridgeport, fast becoming the Mecca of fishermen thruout Texas.

Prizes will be awarded for the outstanding catches made during the tournament. All sportsmen are invited to spend three pleasant days in Wise county's fishermen's paradise, Lake Bridgeport, the largest lake in Texas.

Texas have taken it upon themselves the matter of having Garland Adair make the race for state treasurer."

Born in Cass county in 1889, his boyhood was spent in north Texas, where his father, Rev. John B. Adair, served as a Methodist minister.

He received his first newspaper experience on The Texan while attending the University of Texas in 1911-14. Later he was identified with the press at Marshall, Hico, Mexia, Abilene, Breckenridge and McCombs. His newspaper work was interrupted for eighteen months while he served in the world war, having joined a Dallas battery of Field Artillery of the Thirty-Sixth Division.

G. W. Davis has bought a small farm from Charley Workman west of Decatur, and we understand that G. W. will put in one of the best chicken ranches in this section of the state. He thoroughly understands the raising of chickens and no doubt will make the business profitable. Decatur needs a ranch of this character.

The people of Greenwood and community were greatly shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. J. T. Milliken, who died at that place Wednesday night about 9 o'clock, of consumption. She leaves a husband and two children, who have the sympathy of the entire community.

Dr. J. M. Embury has sold his residence in Decatur to Mr. Tom Waggoner. Mrs. Embury has had her household effects moved and stored away this week, and after a short visit among friends, she and her little daughter, Ella May, will join the doctor on his ranch near Chickasha, I. Mrs. Jim Day, Long Time Citizen, Passes

Mrs. Margaret Tilley Day died at her ranch home near Rhome Friday after a two weeks' illness. She was 81 years of age.

Mrs. Day was the wife of the late James T. Day. She was born in Cherokee county in 1855, the daughter of Captain and Mrs. Brittain Tilley. William Phillips Shums, an executive of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, was a double cousin to Mrs. Day.

When she was 16, she graduated from the first girls' school in East Texas, the Tyler Seminary. She married James T. Day in 1881. She had lived on the ranch more than 50 years. Mrs. Day is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Henry B. Trigg of Fort Worth, and a son, Joseph F. Day, who lives on the ranch; and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the home at 4 p. m. Saturday; burial in the old Aurora cemetery. Pallbearers were L. C. Day, Clyde McMurray, Guy Hogan and Lew Tilley, Fort Worth; O. T. Finlayson, Rhome, and Jerome Day, Denton county.

Will Rogers Memorial At Picture Theatres

Plans for a Will Rogers Memorial Week, to be held in all motion picture theaters throughout the country, in happy memory of the screen philosopher, are announced by Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

The celebration will be held during a full week, from May 22nd to 28th inclusive, and all people in and out of the theater professions will be urged to participate. The week will also mark the dedication of the Will Rogers Memorial Hospital at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks, a million dollar institution formerly known as the N. V. A. Sanitarium and Lodge, which has been presented to the Will Rogers Memorial Commission. The hospital will be dedicated to the services of those of Will Rogers' profession of stage and screen who are sick and needy. This tribute is considered by the commission and many of Will Rogers' most intimate friends as the type of memorial which would have been most pleasing to him. It will give aid to the unfortunate members of the profession which he loved and to which he in his lifetime contributed so greatly. This program is in line with announcements made by Jesse Jones, treasurer of the Will Rogers Memorial Commission, and by Mr. Hays, on behalf of the motion picture industry, at the time of the acceptance by the commission of the gift of the hospital.

Its scope will be extended to include the afflicted of screen and stage, and will be limited only by its capacity and facilities and by this gesture a permanent and fitting memorial to the popular humorist-philosopher is now assured.

All branches of the motion picture industry deserve high praise for the important part they played in making this memorial possible. This hospital has the most modern equipment obtainable and its location in the foothills of the Adirondacks at Saranac Lake make an ideally located shrine for a really useful humanitarian work.

No part of the funds which were obtained in the original drive of the Will Rogers Memorial Commission will be used in connection with the support of the hospital, and it is expected a substantial part of the money received in the celebration next month will be given to the commission for its general purposes. The activities of the Memorial Commission in the use of its general funds are dedicated to the aid and establishment of useful agencies for assisting handicapped children.

Mr. Hays announced that L. E. Thompson, president of Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation, has consented to act as chairman of the complete committee. He will be aided by the conduct of the drive for funds by members of the industry at large, by members of the Will Rogers Memorial Commission and by leading friends of Will Rogers. It is hoped to enlist in this activity all theaters in the United States, including those operated by the major circuits and those operated independently, in order that the tribute to Will Rogers may be truly representative of the entire motion picture industry.

Card of Thanks

With a deep feeling of gratitude, we desire to express our appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us by our friends everywhere, in the passing of our mother and sister, Mrs. J. M. Hill. We sincerely thank you—Richard Hill and Sisters, C. T. Watkins and Family.

Brick Brooder a Success

"We are delighted with our brick brooder," remarked Mrs. Lee Stewart of Chico. "I have brooded successfully 500 baby chicks here in this small house. My neighbors marvel that I have succeeded so well. Anyway, it was easy to keep the chicks warm."

Mrs. Stewart further states, "My losses in baby chicks were largely among those I attempted to brood in one of the rooms of my home."

using a wood stove, which is a very poor substitute. Some of my early hatched chicks now weigh one and one-fourth pounds and will soon be ready for market."

"Six or eight brick brooders have been constructed in this immediate vicinity as a result of this demonstration here on our farm. Every day some of my neighbors come in to see how it operates and to study its construction," she continued.

Useful Implement Added To Hornback Farm

To Eddie Hornback goes the distinction of purchasing and putting into operation the first manure spreader in the county so far as our information goes. This will prove a useful investment, we feel sure. Eddie is one of the county's foremost farmers and is progressive in his thinking and farm planning. Since he is engaged in livestock farming he will now be able to better use the barnyard waste to build the fertility of his soil.

Small Grain in Critical Condition

Unless we have rain immediately the small grain of the county will suffer a material setback and continued dry weather will mean a reduced production. Volunteer grain has about reached the limit and is failing rapidly. Some farmers are now plowing up all or a part of the volunteer grain.

Of course a good rain would work wonders with the crop and good yields could yet be harvested. Weather conditions for the next few days will determine the yield of this crop.

Crowd Attend Fair-view Cemetery Assn.

The annual meeting of the Fair-view Cemetery Association was held at Fairview Saturday, April 18. A large crowd gathered to pay tribute to their dead.

At 11 o'clock, Rev. Lynn Stewart, pastor of the Rhone Baptist church, delivered a sermon. At noon a bountiful feast was spread by the ladies.

In the afternoon a business meeting was held. J. F. Thurnmond offered his resignation as director, and Sol Carpenter was elected to serve in his place and Mr. Thurnmond was made an honorary director. J. H. Rowan, Jim Carpenter, Click and Will Layfield and A. B. VanMeter were re-elected as directors. J. H. Rowan was re-elected president and A. B. Van Meter secretary and treasurer.

Before the adjournment of the association, J. F. Thurnmond told how the Fairview cemetery came to be, and gave a list of those who lived in this community 50 years ago. Mr. Thurnmond is the only survivor of the group.

Frontier Centennial Show Makes History

New York, April 20.—Fort Worth's Frontier Centennial is the showman's paradise, Billy Rose declared here today in explaining that his Texas undertaking will make show world history.

"Picture an open-air cafe-theatre seating at tables more than 3,000 persons before a beautiful lagoon floating a revolving stage, 120 feet in diameter, about three times the size of the Hippodrome stage which we built for Jumbo—until now the largest in the world," Rose said.

"Then visualize a circus building—the only one in the United States and the first to be built in the last 60 years. It will seat nearly 3,000 around a ring 60 feet in diameter and in a building about 200 by 200 feet. This will be the new home of Jumbo.

"Another building of even larger proportions with a greater seating capacity will house the 'Last Frontier,' an attraction that will dramatize the romantic and colorful history of Texas and be combined with a musical revue and radio features," Rose added.

"Add to this an enlarged reproduction of the old frontier town dance hall with its rip-roaring western atmosphere and such other buildings as constituted these villages that inspired the thrilling western novels and motion pictures.

"Place in this setting, the Frontier Follies with hundreds of beautiful girls, Paul Whiteman's orchestra, the stars of stage, screen and radio; Jumbo, the Last Frontier and many other attractions.

"With a budgeted $5,000,000 fully financed, parking space for thousands of automobiles, with everything else that could be desired, and you have the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial—a showman's paradise," Rose concluded.

Hog Feeding Demonstration Pays Well

By Rammond Kinsey, Assistant County Agent

One of the most outstanding feeding demonstrations ever put on in North Texas has just been completed on Mr. R. E. Caraway's farm, 10 miles east of Decatur.

The 43 head of hogs were weighed in on the first day of March, averaging 200 pounds, but all needed finishing. The hogs were raised on the farm and had access to plenty of pasture all of the time and were fed very little feed up to the time of finishing.

A self-feeder was built under the direction of the agricultural agents, and a ration of 100 pounds of peanut meal, 100 pounds cotton-seed meal, 100 pounds tankage, 15 pounds salt, 25 pounds bone meal, and all the yellow corn they could clean up was used.

The hogs were fed 33 days and consumed 1,600 pounds of the supplement and 300 bushels of corn. The hogs gained 4,200 pounds in the 33 days and brought $1,274.01. The total feed cost for the 33 days was $173.80.

Mr. Caraway also has 17 Hereford calves on feed, and they are doing exceedingly well. They will go on the market about the first of June, and will weigh 900 to 1,000 pounds each.

Cheyenne Indians once believed that a giant beaver controlled the world's destiny. They thought that the earth rested atop a tree trunk, which would be cut down if the beaver became angry.

Farmer Says He Will Have Good Fruit Crop

Al Farrington brings the comforting report that he expects as large a fruit yield from his orchard as he had last year, despite the quite hard freeze of a few weeks ago.

For the last few days this skilled general farmer, fruit and melon grower has been marketing in Decatur an excellent quality of strawberries grown on his own place. The fruit exceeds in size and luscious ripe quality the imported fruit now coming on the market from outside localities.

Mr. Farrington expects greatly to enlarge his acreage of the three leading varieties of berries his experience teaches him thrive in this section.

Merchant Says People Will Read the Ads

"A home merchant may not advertise in his home paper, but he can't keep merchants from advertising in the dailies in the nearby cities," says Jack Lewis in the Lewisville Enterprise; "and he can't keep citizens of his town from reading the city dailies. If they read them, as they will, they are going to find some way to buy the things they see advertised. This is in response to a fundamental law of selling and human psychology. This is one of the first things that good advertising writers learn, and when read act as a selling force in the mind of the reader."

FUNDAMENTALIST BAPTIST CHURCH

Scott W. Hickey, Pastor

Sunday was the beginning of a series of meetings in the interest of our children and young people. Parents and all older people as well, are urged to attend these services and bring your children with you.

Scripture lesson read from Mark 10, beginning with verse 13, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not." Also, Rom. 8, with emphasis on verse 14, "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

God's Spirit is the only safe guide for the feet of our young people as well as for the old, all by nature being prone to go astray. The spirit of the evil one, the Devil, is a hard rival for such leadership in our lives, that he may secure our eternal destruction. Children in a special way need the leadership of God's Spirit in their lives.

We have great cause to fear this evil spirit, and shun him. He is deceptive in his appearances, promising much and only giving us the husks from the hog pen, and finally destruction. We are warned, "Fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul; but rather fear Him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." Mat. 10:28, Mat. 3:16.

Special services Thursday night, interesting Bible lessons each Sunday, 10 a. m. One hundred and seventy-one present last Sunday. Come and bring someone with you, and let's make it 200 next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Scott, Mrs. W. A. Helm, Miss Jennie Hambricht, Mrs. T. J. McMurray, Clyde Slump and Arnold Davenport and wife attended the funeral of Mrs. J. T. Day at Rhone Saturday afternoon.

Two hundred varieties of British Jubilee stamps were issued in 1935. A total of 1,000,000,000 of these was issued thruout the empire.

METHODIST CHURCH

"The Church with a Glad Hand" W. C. Clement, Pastor

Considering the two days strenuous Centennial celebration—attended at the services was good, 196 being in Sunday school. Mr. Carl Brumbelow of the college, was guest organist at the eleven o'clock hour. Miss Hamilton, also of the college, gave a beautiful solo. Bro. Clement preached from Joshua 24:15—the text being "Choose you this day whom ye will serve; but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

Bro. Crutchfield preached an excellent sermon at night, and held the quarterly conference. The reports given were encouraging.

We are straining our eyes for some Methodists who haven't yet learned the way to Sunday school. Let us all help in the Baptist meeting—attend; pray for the lost, and speak to people about their souls. Best wishes to Bro. Bell, as he begins his 17th year of ministry in Delightful Decatur.—Outher D. Gose, Superintendent.

On the Street

A certain street was called, and held on April 7th; the street was voted closed by the patriots by a brutal, overwhelming majority. Now bobs up the fact that the street voted closed was not the one the voters wanted closed. The one voted stopped up and put out of commission, was several blocks from the one condemned by the sovereigns. And so.

The statue, "Pioneer Woman," proposed to adorn the college campus at C. L. A., Denton town, is creating no little discussion, and it is feared that some politicians will be caught in the whirl. The statue is "too modern," claim some. "Not enough clothes to pad a crutch," is another criticism offered. A politician is said to have said "Too bad, the little girls at C. L. A. are shocked over the lack of clothing on the figures."

This suggestion is offered. Erect a replica of the Sam Woody original home on the courthouse lawn, and have an attendant in the building at all times during the big centennial show in Dallas and Fort Worth, with literature about the history of Decatur and Wise county for visitors who come this way. Thousands of tourists will pass thru here during the year, and with the proper advertising of our town and county, much good will result.

The urgent need of a public auditorium in Decatur has been brought home to our citizens time and time again, but the two-day centennial show here last week most forcibly reminded the people that a commodious meeting place is in demand now. The town was literally packed with people, streets were jammed, and the public square was a milling mass. The entertainments, all of a very high order, were staged in school buildings far removed from the town proper, and this inconvenience was a disappointment to the thousands.

Col. Ernest Thompson, chairman state railroad commission, candidate for re-election as member of the commission, here to attend the Wise county centennial celebration Friday, was a welcome visitor at Messenger office. Col. Thompson is a product of Wise, having first seen the light of day in this glorious sector, on a farm between Alvord and Sunset.

On Parole

The system of parole and parole boards, set up in recent months by Governor James V. Allred, is one of the biggest things ever done for this state by any executive. It deserves far more consideration and cooperation from the citizenship than it has been given thus far.

It is working without much publicity and noise—and, by its very nature, should be so conducted.

In nearly every county in Texas now there is a parole board composed of dependable, honorable citizens, whose official duty in such a capacity is to help paroled prisoners make a come-back.

The duty of these parole boards is two-fold. First, to extend a sort of fatherly watch-care over men and women who have been released from the state penitentiary—to protect them from undue publicity and encourage them in honor to make useful, law-abiding citizens. Second, to see that the primary purpose of all law is fulfilled in regard to these unfortunate men and women, that every man rightfully regard others' rights and liberties as well as his own.

The citizenship of this state can aid, too, in a fine way to make honorable citizens out of ex-convicts, by helping these parole boards by creating the right kind of atmosphere and personal regard for the paroled ex-criminals.

This can be done by discouraging gossip about the men and women who have been returned from the penitentiary to start life over again.

The meaning of the word parole is to release on honor. To be constantly accused and suspected and talked about and shunned, breaks down one's sense of honor and just and he is proud of the fact that he is a native and, he it known, old Wise is proud of you, Col. Thompson. You have made good in the big affairs of the country, and your record on the railroad commission is deserving of the endorsement the people of Texas will give you at the coming election.

In another column of today's Messenger will be found an article, dealing with the question "What About the Annual Reunion?" In view of the fact that the amusement companies and entertainers groups allied with concerns interested in games of horse-shoe pitching, spitting at the crack, guessing contests, foot-racing, etc., nefarious and dangerous amusements for the young and unsuspecting, they refuse to come to the Wise county reunion, fearing prosecution, and elect to accept offers from other reunion committees thruout the state, and with this condition existing the local reunion committee is put to about staging the fifty-sixth affair at Joe Wheeler park. Suggestions for entertainment are in order.

rice and makes the road of honor toward a come-back almost impossible to travel.

Approximately one out of every thousand of Texas' population enters our penitentiary. It is the opportunity of the rest of us to help restore that one out of a thousand with the spirit of "go and sin no more." To do otherwise encourages growth of crime and makes worse criminals of these paroled men and women than they were at first.

The law's responsibility has never ended with bringing about a conviction and placing the guilty in a position to receive punishment. The greater purpose of the law is to serve as a sort of schoolmaster for those who go wrong and mistreat their fellowmen—a sort of schoolmaster to show, to direct, if you please, back into obedient paths.

Governor Allred has taken steps in this bold and magnanimous experiment to see that this greater purpose of the law is fulfilled. Let us as citizens co-operate with him and with the boards of honorable citizens in each county to make of the undertaking a magnificent success.

If we want to help the full meaning of parole—on honor—to be realized, and the paroled to be again honorable, we must show them the way.

"Mine honor is my life; both grow in one; Take honor from me, and my life is done." Shakespeare. Killzone Herald.

ALLISON NEWS

A little rain has fallen here since our last writing—not enough to help much, however.

Bro. Randolph, Methodist pastor, preached a series of good and helpful sermons to the Allison folks last week.

John William Stevenson is real sick in Harris Hospital, Fort Worth, and has been lying some time with a trouble in his left side. When called to Fort Worth last Saturday, it was discovered his appendix was on the left side and he was suffering from appendicitis. An operation was performed at once and he is doing as well as could be expected. We are hoping for his speedy recovery.

Mr. Gauld, who is here with his daughter, Mrs. M. D. Herring, is not so well at this writing.

Pete Syler, wife and baby spent last week end with relatives in Sherman.

Mrs. Elliott Foster's father, Mr. Lynch, of Ellis County, visited her the past week.

A recent letter from Bill Herring and family reports that Mrs. Herring's mother, Mrs. Mathis, is blind and is bedfast at this time. Friends are sorry to hear of her misfortune and illness.

A. J. Kellam, who has been in trouble health several years, is about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cox of Decatur, attended church service here Sunday.

Methodist Circuit

Rev. G. C. Randolph, Pastor.

The revival meeting held the past week at Allison came to a close Sunday night. Fairly good interest was manifested in the meeting. There were no additions to the church.

The pastor will fill his regular appointment at Oak Grove next Sunday morning and evening. All people in the community, and especially the members of the church, are urged to be there. If you have not been attending church and Sunday school, why not start at once?

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 there will be preaching at Shiloh church. We are very anxious to help the people of this community and sincerely hope that they will turn out for this service.

Please bear in mind that next Tuesday is the date for our district conference. We shall expect every delegate to attend.

Texans Will Advertise Big Show in East

Dallas, Texas, April 15.—A delegation of 125 Texans, accompanied by a band of 32 pieces, will leave Dallas at midnight of April 26 for a tour of the more densely populated sections of the nation. The tour is in behalf of the more than 200 Centennial celebrations to be staged in various parts of Texas during 1936.

Headed by Governor James V. Alfred and Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul, the delegation will include leaders in statecraft, business, economics and all lines of trade.

The train is sponsored jointly by the Texas Press Association, the Texas Centennial commission of control and the Texas Centennial Central Exposition Corporation.

Basic rate for the round trip from Dallas is $198.50, which includes Pullman, hotel accommodations in places where overnight stops are made, and meals both aboard the train and during these stops. The rate lowers or increases in proportion to the Pullman accommodation required. The train departs from Dallas, but assembly points have also been arranged for Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth.

Sam P. Harben, chairman of transportation and hotels, announces that the list of reservations rapidly is absorbing the capacity of the train. For that reason he urges prompt action upon the part of any person desiring to go. Reservations may be made with him by wire or letter at the Allen building in Dallas.

Any patriotic Texan is welcome to make the trip. Reservations are being made on the democratic fashion of first come, first served.

Texas Ranks First In Number of Colts

D. F. Eaton, county agent of Wise county, reports that Texas ranked first in the number of mule colts under two years of age on January 1, 1935, as shown by census figures.

It will be of especial interest to the horse and mule men in this county to know that Wise county had 122 mules under two years of age, making the county rank 13th in the state.

Despite this, neither the county nor the state are raising enough mules to supply replacements needed. Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse and Mule Association of America, who has just sent County Agent Eaton a very valuable report on the successful management of jacks for mule production, advises that there is a great shortage of young mules in the United States, as there are only 11 mule colts coming three years of age this spring where there should be 52 for replacement purposes alone. This indicates what a tremendous shortage exists.

The limiting factor in mule production for the next few years will be the number of jacks available. There are not nearly enough jacks; hence, it is highly desirable for men having jacks to get them in the most vigorous possible condition for breeding, in order that they may be both prompt and fertile in breeding mares. The report Mr. Eaton Dinsmore has just sent to Mr. Eaton contains comprehensive information on how this can be accomplished and jack owners are invited to visit the county agent's office for the purpose of reading the report in question. Men who have mares to breed to jacks are also welcome to examine the report, which will be of distinct practical assistance to them.

The New Deal

Come and let us reason. It may be interesting and instructive to the reader to know that according to reliable authorities, the physical properties of all the people of the United States situated within her borders—that is, the things we owned—on October 29, 1929, had a value of three hundred sixty billion dollars; that on that date values began to sag and continued to do so until on January 1, 1933 (1158 days later), said values were reduced to two hundred and one billion dollars. "Believe it, or not," a pencil and paper will reveal that this great slaughter in prices was equal to five cents an hour for every man, woman and child in this great country at that time.

As an illustration, I will ask the reader to imagine a large lake filled to spillway level, in the middle of which float two large ships—the liquid in this lake representing the purchasing power of the people, spillway level representing cost of production, the ships representing business and industry, the dam holding the liquid in the lake representing confidence. On October 29, 1929, the dam (confidence) gave way, the liquid (purchasing power, not money) went out, and as a result the ships (business and industry) went to the bottom and mired in the mud. The caretaker (Mr. Hoover) looked, said little, and did nothing. The effect of this great slaughter has been felt by every man, woman and child in this country; many suffering every conceivable hardship—want, privation and even starvation, with actually everything we could wish for on every side—all on account of the broken dam.

I charge these conditions as being some of the fruits of the Old Deal. Under the Old Deal, railroads, telegraph and telephone companies are guaranteed more than the cost of production, not in so many words but in effect. Should you think otherwise, just follow up some of the cases in which rate reduction have been demanded and you will find that they set up an enormous expense, deterioration of properties, high salaries for easy chair officials, dividend on investment, pensions for employees, and many other items, and are generally sustained in their contentions that such reductions asked for would be confiscatory. It would not be so had were it not for the fact that every son-of-a-gun of them has at this time had under their belts during each day for the past several years food products disposed of by the producer for less than cost of production.

I have seen wheat sell for $3.00 per bushel and I have seen it sell for 20 cents per bushel, and the wheat selling for 30 cents a bushel made just as many loaves of bread as that selling for $3.00; but the wheat selling for 30 cents was selling for less than it cost to produce it. It is not Scripture but as true as Scripture that the "Consumer has no right to partake of the producer's bread for less than it cost to produce it."

A laborer went home from his work rejoicing with his wife that food products could be had so cheaply. The cost of living reduced later to realize that the cost of such products, like a rubber ball thrown against a brick wall (destroyed the purchasing power) bounced back and knocked him jobless.

In March, 1933, when Franklin D. Roosevelt became the caretaker of the lake referred to, he found the ships still mired in the mud, the banks of the country closed, the stability of the government itself almost shaken. He set to work with all the efforts at his command to bring about a reconstructed dam sufficiently reinforced to serve all the people and serve them well. Finding that such a structure could not be erected in a day, he proceeded to erect a temporary dam (relief measures such as CCC, AAA, NRA, NRS, PWA, and WPA) and though the lake has not filled to a safety point, the ships are floating and much has been accomplished. This so far is part of the fruits of the New Deal.

The dam is now in the making and no doubt many stones (ideas) will be offered, and many good ones rejected, but the New Dealer has requested the citizens unsatisfied with present plans to offer something better.

One stone (idea) offered for this structure would be to have the secretary of agriculture ascertain the average cost of production of a bale of cotton by taking into consideration all labor, land rents, taxes, wear and tear of tools, supervision, ginning and transportation, etc., and when such cost was fairly arrived at, this would be set as a price. Should the markets refuse to buy it, store it away and issue currency against it to the amount of the cost, such currency to be retired upon the withdrawal of such cotton from the said warehouse either for export or consumption. It is believed that the same principal should apply to all non-perishable farm products, and when so accomplished would stabilize prices as would a government bond and as good as any Federal Reserve bank note. If not, why not?

Should the agricultural interests secure such legislation (which is no more class legislation than the public service corporations now enjoy) the producer would again enjoy restored prices and restored prices would restore credit to such an extent that he would become a purchaser in all branches that would have the effect of putting thousands of bales of cotton on the backs of the American people, thousands of bumpy homes, because those who would labor might labor. This, together with another stone (idea) of plans of caring for the aged with an annuity sufficient that they may spend their last days in comfort and at the same time take them from the field of competitive labor, would without doubt, help raise the water in this lake.

The critics howl a great deal about the deficiency of our governmental operation, and I too am howling; but I want to see if paid with restored prices which is an impossibility under the Old Deal.

Did you ever help rescue a cow out of the bog when it was impossible for the animal to release itself? If you have you know when they are released they are invariably ready for a fight and their rescuers are the first ones they jump on; and so are many of the critics of the present administration. They have been released from the bog but are not satisfied.

The time is near at hand when we, the voters, in our precinct conventions shall have our say as to who shall be the standard bearer in the great democratic party in the coming campaigns, and although I am not in accord with everything that has been done and I think mistakes have been made, that as we live in a country subject to drought and pestilence, a surplus product should be an asset and not a liability, that food and raiment should be preserved and not destroyed; yet I for one will forever shun the conditions that brought about the breaking of the dam and shall lend my support to the nomination and election of the present New Dealer, the statesman, Franklin Delano Roosevelt—W. E. MUNN, Boyd, Texas.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wise County, Texas, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon A. A. Ripy and husband, J. W. Ripy, whose residence is unknown, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Wise County, Texas, to be held at the courthouse thereof in the city of Decatur on the fourth Monday in May, 1936, being the 25th day of May, 1936, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 27th day of November, 1935, the file number of which is 6576, in which Eugene P. Locke is plaintiff and A. A. Ripy and husband, J. W. Ripy, F. A. Davenport, J. C. Brown, Homer Rhine and Percy McGeorge are defendants, the cause of action being alleged as follows:

Plaintiff alleges (1) that said defendants A. A. Ripy and husband, J. W. Ripy, made, executed and delivered to William McGeorge, Jr., that certain note dated December 1, 1921, due December 1, 1931, for the sum of $1800.00, bearing interest at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum from date until maturity, and thereafter at the rate of ten per centum (10%) per annum, and providing for the payment of ten per centum (10%) additional on the amount then due if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection; (2) to secure the payment of said note, said A. A. Ripy and husband, J. W. Ripy made, executed and delivered to Arthur McGeorge, trustee, that certain deed of trust, dated December 1, 1921, and recorded at page 197 of volume 43 of the records of deeds of trust of Wise County, Texas, conveying to said trustee in trust land situated in Wise County, Texas, consisting of eighty-two (82) acres in the Polly Ryan Survey, patent No. 822, volume 11, abstract No. 705, more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at the southwest corner of said survey; thence north 475 varas to corner; thence east 974 varas to corner; thence south 475 varas to corner; thence west 974 varas to beginning;

(3) that said note and deed of trust were duly transferred by the owners thereof by instruments of writing to said plaintiff and that said plaintiff is now the legal and equitable owner and holder of said note and lien.

That though often requested, the said defendants, A. A. Ripy and husband, J. W. Ripy, failed and refused to pay the principal of said note, and have made default in the payment of the interest due upon said note as of December 1, 1930, December 1, 1931, December 1, 1932, December 1, 1933, and December 1, 1934, to plaintiff's damage in an amount equal to the principal of said note, accrued interest and attorney's fees.

That defendants Percy McGeorge, F. A. Davenport, J. C. Brown and Homer Rhine are asserting some character of interest and-or claim to the property hereinabove described, but plaintiff alleges that such claims are inferior and subordinate to plaintiff's debt and lien and that said defendants are not entitled to assert said claims as against said plaintiff.

Plaintiff prays for judgment for the principal amount of said note, together with interest and attorney's fees and the cost of suit and for a foreclosure of his deed of trust lien as against all of said defendants.

You are commanded to summon said defendants A. A. Ripy and J. W. Ripy and to serve this citation by making publication thereof once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county; but if there be no newspaper published in said county, then in any newspaper published in the nearest county where a newspaper is published.

Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right." Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
